FARRAGUT'S FAVORITE | 14

pusser's royal navy rum, rumhaven coconut rum, pineapple, orange juice, cream of coconut

August 5, 1864: After Admiral Farragut led his Union naval fleet into Mobile Bay, watched his unsinkable ship succumb to the murky waters, damned the torpedoes, and eventually captured Fort Morgan, we figure he probably reached for a cocktail—and what's more appropriate after all of that than a classic 'painkiller'.

SMOKING LAMP | 14

tres generaciones tequila plata, fresh grapefruit and lime, fresh rosemary and smoked sea salt

July 10, 1944: The Grand Hotel becomes a training camp for Operation Ivory Soap during WWII. The floors of the guestrooms and lobbies became "decks", time was kept by a ship's bell and the men indulged in the use of tobacco only when the "smoking lamp" was lit.

ALABAMA BOURBON-ADE | 14

clyde may's alabama bourbon, fresh strawberries & lemon

During the dark days of prohibition, Clyde knew a thing or two about crafting the finest spirits around, even if his methods were slightly outside the laws of the land. His high standards and commitment to quality cemented his reputation as the "most-wanted" moonshiner in Alabama...Like Clyde, we too have a passion for quality and pay homage to the official state spirit with our Alabama bourbon-ade.

ESTATE GARDEN SPRITZ | 14

chandon garden spritz, fresh orange & rosemary

This refreshing cocktail paired with a warm breeze off the bay while relaxing in our estate garden is the perfect way to spend an afternoon.

THE SUN ALSO RISES | 13

bacardi reserva ocho, fresh lime & grapefruit, maraschino liqueur

Our take on the classic Hemingway daiquiri; although the Nobel winning novelist and short story writer was never a guest at the hotel (that we know of), we're positive waking up to a sunrise on the bay would have given him inspiration for a new story.

MOBILE BAY SUNSET | 12

wheatley vodka, orange, pineapple, splash of pomegranate syrup

Late afternoons in Bayside Grill boast exquisite views of spectacular Mobile Bay sunsets—an almost daily experience that never gets old.

BOTTLEBRUSH PUNCH | 14

aperol, st. germain, sapphire gin, fresh juices, sparkling rosé

Every autumn, the Grand Hotel anticipates the arrival of our tiniest guests of the year—the Monarch Butterflies! We are their last stop on their migration south before crossing the Gulf of Mexico to the Sierra Madre Mountains. Our lemon bottlebrush bushes planted throughout the grounds provide rest and nourishment and leave our human guests in awe of their presence.
